By Region

Los Angeles City, unincorporated areas of Los Angeles County, Pasadena, Malibu, and Santa Monica have begun phasing in minimum-wage increases over the last couple of years. In addition, employees within the geographic boundaries of the City of Los Angeles who perform at least two hours of work in a week are to accrue extra paid sick leave. Paid sick-leave provisions only apply to work done within the City of Los Angeles, not the entire County of Los Angeles. In addition, employers within the Los Angeles City boundaries are to abide by the new Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring Ordinance (FCIHO) which prohibits Private Employers and City Contractors from inquiring about an applicant's criminal history until after a conditional offer of employment has been made.

However, there are areas within the County of Los Angeles that are considered part of the City of Los Angeles. To help identify the locations impacted by the minimum-wage, paid sick-leave, and fair chance ordinances, please use to information below which is a list of the specific areas affected by the provisions.
